

QUESTIONARY OF AN EXPERT

Federal state budgetary educational institution of higher education “Saratov State Agrarian University” is working on the implementation of a research project: “Forecasting and monitoring of scientific and technological development of the agro-industrial complex: processing of agricultural raw material into food, feed and other products in 2019”

To identify topical issues related to the acceleration of technological development of the agro-industrial complex in the field of processing of agricultural raw materials and food technologies, your opinion is very important to us!

To answer the questionnaire questions you just need to indicate (enclose in a circle) the option of the most appropriate answer. You can also detail your suggestions, give explanations and make comments.

If you are interested in the results of the study, we will provide them.

Implementation of technological trends in the processing of agricultural raw materials into food, feed and other products in 2019–2030.

	Importance			The expected timing of a promising direction and its maximum efficiency (put "+" in one of the cells)				Support measures (estimate all directions from 0 to 10 points for each position)
	High	Average	Low	2019 – 2020	2021 - 2025	2026 - 2030	After 2030	Won't be implemented	Saff training	Development of material and technical base and infrastructure of science	Increase in government funding	Attraction of business funds	Intellectual property protection	International co-operation support
